Teachers Were Busy Yesterday.

Remarkable Boldness in Passing Word Around to Brethren.

Democrats Go About on Sunday Instructing People to Vote Straight Republican Ticket.

Mormon candidates for office, the pledges of high officials of the church and the fairy tales of the Lutter-day Ananias, the scribbling apostle, the Mormon church yesterday used its index finger to point the spot where the cross should be placed, in the same way that has been done for years. Early yesterday morning the seventles

Early yesterday morning the seventles met in secluded places and the teachers were busy until iate in the afternoon visiting the homes of the pliable, giving the priestly grip and with it a few words as to the party which the church desires its members to support.

The teaching politicians used very little effort to conceal the cause of their visits. Interested persons in every ward in the city witnessed the teachers passing through the back gates of Mormon homes and greeting the inhabitants with the ecclosiastical smile while giving them the priestly "mitt" with the thumb countersign.

The words of warning and advice were short but emphatic and the word "Republican" was practically all that it was necessary to say Perhaps in cases where the person approached seemed disinclined to take the "word" it was necessary to make mention of Brother Cutter and Apostle Reed Smoot, but in most cases it was not necessary.

twe districts and earned a vast amount of milesage money in their voyages up alleys and down garden paths to the kitchen doors. Strange to relate, these two leachers were not arousing the feeble faith of their Democratic bretheren in the glorious destiny of their accredited party. On the contrary, the instructions given were to please the church by voting the Republican ticket. The ignorant members of the church visited only needed to be told that their spiritual rolers had so decided and a hearty affirmative assurance was given.

Work Is Effective.

Work Is Effective.

Work Is Effective.

At three houses visited by persons other than teachers it was learned that the households which had been canvassed us being of the Democratic faith a few days ago had since the visit of the teachers suddenly become Republican strongholds. Several bauses in these two districts whose owners appear on the party books an Democrats and who were of this faith on Saturday evening, became Republicans in the "twinkling of an eye and went to meeting at 2 o'clock vesterday afternoon with the air of persons who had never been anything else. In the Twentieth district the teachers met in a frame structure removed from the public highway and somotimes known as "Thomas's Barnacla." At this meeting it is presumed the word was passed down, as it came in successive stages from the "main guy" and the teachers receiving it, hurried out to get in their work before 2 o'clock, when it is supposed the reports were received. The same activity was manifested in all the other districts of the city, and as a result, unless the instructions are changed today, the tragedy of 192 bids fair to be repeated as far as the Democratic party is concerned.

It has generally been understood that the "word" had gone forth some time ago and the appearance of the teachers vesterday gave rise to the report that there was a change of front and a Democratic victory had been ordered, but it suppears that the visits were due to the fact that a poll of strength by the authorities had shown a reversal of ferm and it was necessary to sather in a number of votes which were to have been defined in order to give a symblance of full ness and cover the previous werk of the teachers.

EXTREMISTS LOSE POWER

Elections in Italy Do Not Materially Augment Ministerial Following.

ROME, Nov. 6.-The general election for members of the Chamber of Deputies took place today and up to midnight no serious incident had been reported. Results ascertained from about three-fifths of the constituencies show that the power of the extreme parties has been diminished without, however, materially augmenting the number of ministerial followers, as most of the new recruits are Conservatives who may be expected to soon abandon Premier Gloietti, a Liberal. Somnins, the leader of the constitutional opposition, has lost some of his followers, owing to the fact that Milan, which formerly was represented by the extremists, has elected two Conservatives, one clerical and two Socialist reformists, one of whom, Turail, was supported even by nonserious incident had been reported. Rehas elected two Conservatives, one clerical and two Socialist reformists, one of whom. Turati, was supported even by non-Socialists. As Turati, though a leader of the Socialist reformists, condemned the general strike, his selection is regarded as a reply to that strike.

Genoa, where the strike was most violent, overthrew the Extremists.

Ferri, the Socialist leader, in most of the forty constituencies, gathered only a few votes, especially where the Socialist candidates were competing with prominent politicians, as Minister of the Treasury Luzzati, who lad 1566 votes out of 2006, and Ferri 155.

The Clericals voted almost everywhere for Conservative candidates. Further returns and second ballotings next Sunday may considerably change the situation.

HINGED ON DOG'S TAIL.

Canine's Presence When Masked Bandit Appeared Decided Case,

REDDING, Nov. 6 .- When a jury in the Superior court of Trinity county at Wea-verville awarded Ah Get, a Chinaman, a verdict of $57.45 against Charles Carr, yesterday, it virtually decided that the robbery committed at the Carr mine on Trinity river by a musked highwayman on September 13 last was a fake. In that robbery the Chinaman lost $597.45 under reobery the Chinaman lost $297.50 under very peculiar circumstances. Carr had just had a settlement with him and had stacked the coin upon the table for Ah Get to take. Ah Get had just given a receipt in full for the money when a masked robber entered and, with a revolver, held Carr and Ah Get at bay, took the coin and made his escape.

The Carr mine is at a lonely spot on volver, held Carr and Ah Get at bay, took the coin and made his escape.

The Carr mine is at a lonely spot on Trinity river, between Junction and Douglas City, a singular place for a bandit to appear at such an opportune moment. The more Ah Get thought about the incident the less he thought it was a genuine robbery. He brought a civil suit to recover the money stolen. That was the case decided yesterday. The jury decided that Ah Get was not only entitled to $597.45, which the alleged bandit took, but interest from the date of the hold-up.

The account of the actions of a dog at the time of the robbery was important evidence. Ah Get testified that the Carr dog always barked viciously when strangers came upon the premises, but when the supposed bandit came the dog was friendly and wagged his tall familiarly. There will be no criminal presecution for the hold-up, as it is believed that justlee is satisfied by Ah Get getting judgment for the spoils of the robbery with interest. The judgment is as good as coin, for the Carr mine is a valuable one.

MANAGERS ALERT TO LAST.

No Excitement and No Big Wagers, but Both Sides Confident.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.-There was no extreme anxiety about political headquarters today, but the managers were slert and watching the close of the campaign with great interest. The Democratic National committee issued a statement claiming with confidence the election of ciaiming with confidence the election of Judge Parker and also making assertions about the campaign fund of the Repub-

Chairman Cortelyou although shown a conv of the statement, would make no comment further than to repeat the claim made last night that Mr. Roosevelt would have 314 votes in the electoral college. The Democrats claim 270 votes.

About the hotels where politicians usually gather and where great interest is shown on the eve of an election, there was the same quiet that has marked the progress of the canvass.

No Offers to Wager.

No Offers to Wager.

A few groups in cafes discussed the situation and expressed opinions on the result, but there was no excitement nor offers to wager any large sums, which has been a feature of previous elections.

Some opinions were expressed by members of the different committees, their views being that the election would be a landside for the candidate they supported. The wide difference in the estimates of the two committees and the confidence which the managers of both parties expressed caused no little comment.

There also was discussion upon the newspaper polis, and they were indorsed or discredited according to the party bins of the person who gave an opinion.

Both committees received reports during the day from Beutenants in the field, and both claimed that the report bore out their predictions of success and caused their respective partisans to declare with increased confidence their belief in the election of the candidate they supported.

Judge Parker, who closed his tour of speeches in Brooklyn last evening remained in New York until 6 o'clock, when he left for Esopus. During the evening he was in consultation with the Democratic managers here concerning the situation and developments of the day.

No special plans have been made by either committee for tomorrow, but they will be in close communication with party managers in the debatable States and the last final suggestions for Tuesday's work will be made.
